Welcome to the Causeway Coast and Glens

The whole world has changed since we last went to print but some things never change and in the words of Lonely Planet we still deliver '...timeless beauty and high grade distractions – golf, whiskey and some of the world's most popular rocks....'

The French saying 'plus ça change, plus c'est la même chose' certainly applies to the Causeway Coast and Glens, this wonderful place has evolved over millions of years and will always take your breath away with every twist and turn on the road.

Rediscover the joy of travelling and reawaken your senses as you immerse yourself in the stories of the area. Revel in the warm welcome of our people, who will transport you from the mythical to the real life drama of our castles and townlands and villages. Rejoice in reconnecting with nature in four Areas of Outstanding Natural Beauty, from the rolling glens to the dramatic cliffs and headlands shadowing miles of golden sand. And of course, you can always take to the water and reflect on new perspectives.

Whether you're thinking of coming to the Causeway Coast and Glens for the first time, or you are a regular visitor, we promise you a warm welcome and an unforgettable experience. Rest assured that your comfort and safety is the priority of everybody involved to ensure that you have a carefree experience when you visit us. Watch out for the We're Good to Go certification logo. This is the industry standard and consumer mark to reassure you that the tourism businesses are committed to adhering to government and public health guidance. For the most up-to-date information on tourism businesses that are signed up to We're Good to Go check out www.visitcausewaycoastandglens.com/good-to-go.

We've all been on different journeys since March 2020 and we now invite you to find your way to the Causeway Coast and Glens with peace of mind that every precaution has been taken and procedures are in place to look after you.

Rathlin Island

w. www.rathlincommunity.org

Rathlin Island is an iconic landmark off the northern coastline of County Antrim and forms part of the panorama of the Causeway Coastal Route lying just six miles off the coast from Ballycastle. The high sea cliffs lend an aura of mystery and induce the urge to explore what lies beyond, but arguably, its greatest asset is the breeding seabird colony. The island also boasts significant natural heritage sites and is particularly internationally important for its flora and in some cases, its unique underwater marine life. Visitors' cars are restricted and the roads are quiet and ideal for walking and cycling. On the island you can follow the Sustrans National Cycle, Network Route 93 to the West Lighthouse, East Lighthouse and Rue Lighthouse or follow any of eight walking trails. To reach the Island, take the ferry (maximum 40 minutes) from Ballycastle Harbour to Church Bay, Rathlin. You can choose to do a round trip in a day or stay a while and enjoy unique accommodation and hospitality. The island's strong cultural heritage, with storytelling, songs and music is legendary.

Places of Interest

Kebble and Kinramer Nature Reserve, BT54 6RT

Discover orchids and the rare pyramidal bugle, as well as breeding seabirds and waders as you enjoy the walking trails and interpretative panels.

Roonivoolin Reserve and Trail, BT54 6SB

Venture south on the island for amazing views of the coastline, as well as wildlife, such as seals, Irish hare and curlew.

Knockan's Viewpoint

Feast your eyes on panoramic views of Church Bay, Rue Point, the Antrim Coast and the Mull of Kintyre.

RSPB Rathlin West Light Seabird Centre, BT54 6RT

w.rspb.org.uk/rathlinisland

Experience the hustle and bustle of Rathlin's seabird city as thousands of birds raise their chicks precariously on the cliff edges at the West Light Seabird Centre. This seabird colony is a crowd pleaser, especially when everyone's favourite, the puffin, makes an appearance, with May-July being the best time to see them. Access is via ferry from Ballycastle, then by private bus, or, if preferred, a scenic 4.5 mile hike or cycle across the island. Visit Rathlin Island's famous 'upside down' lighthouse – a member of The Great Lighthouses of Ireland partnership. Please note that there are 98 steps down (and up) to the seabird viewing platform and a further 64 to the bottom of the lighthouse. For seasonal opening information, please visit rspb.org.uk/rathlinisland. Admission charges apply.

Golf

We are still brimming with pride following our hosting of The 148th Open in July 2019 and the scenes when Irishman Shane Lowry lifted the Claret Jug at Royal Portrush will live long in our memories.

The 148th Open served to enhance the Causeway Coast and Glens' long established reputation for great golf and golf events at Championship Links, including Portstewart Golf Club and Castlerock Golf Club.

And it's not just the courses that are famous - no less than three Major title winners have lived here, namely Fred Daly, Darren Clarke and Graeme McDowell.

As befitting an area rich in golf heritage, there are a number of courses, both links and parkland where golfers may test their skills. For budding golfers, there are courses to develop their swing at less challenging Par 3 or pitch and putt courses.

Game of Thrones

Game of Thrones® is an original HBO series based on George R.R. Martin's best-selling fantasy novels, A Song of Ice and Fire. Since the pilot in 2009, the show has filmed across various locations in Northern Ireland and many of them are in the Causeway Coast and Glens. For cast members, Michelle Fairley (Catelyn Stark) and Conleth Hill (Lord Varys), it was something of a homecoming, as they originally hail from Coleraine and Ballycastle. Walk in the footsteps of your screen heroes and villains with a guided or self-guided tour.

For full details on scenes and locations download the free NI Screen Game of Thrones® Filming Locations Northern Ireland app for Apple and Android devices. The app also includes information on the unique 10 Doors of Thrones that work together to tell the tale of Season 6. Follow the Journey of Doors and get your Doors of Thrones Passport stamped at three locations in the Causeway Coast and Glens. You don't want to miss these intricately carved doors telling the story of an episode in Season 6.

- #5 Frank Owens, Limavady
- #6 Fullerton Arms, Ballintoy
- #8 Mary McBride's, Cushendun.

Galboly, The Glens of Antrim Runestone

Situated above Garron Point on the Causeway Coastal Route, the hidden village of Galboly is where Sansa and Littlefinger watch Robin practise his swordsmanship in Season 5 Episode 1. In Season 6 Episode 4, Littlefinger and Robin agree to march to Sansa's aid with the Knights of the Vale. Please note this site is on private land.

Cushendun Caves A Cove in the Stormlands

In the quaint village of Cushendun, at the mouth of the river Dun, you will find the magnificent caves that were formed over 400 million years ago. They were used in Season 2 Episode 4 when Melisandre gave birth to the shadow creature, which goes on to kill Renly Baratheon. Please note this site is on private land.

Murlough Bay Slaver Bay and Renly's Camp

The wild and windswept cliffs above Murlough Bay is where brothers Stannis and Renly met in Season 2 Episode 4. On the bay, Tyrion and Jorah were captured by slavers in Season 5 Episode 6.

Fair Head Dragonstone Cliffs

This rocky headland rises 600ft above sea level and lies just three miles from the town of Ballycastle. In Season 7 Episode 3, Varys confronts Melisandre here about her avoidance of Jon Snow before advising her to leave Westeros forever. It's also where Jon, Daenerys and Drogon share a moment together in Episode 5, and latterly Tyrion and Daenerys in Episode 6.

Larrybane

The Stormlands and
Nagga's Hill, Old Wyk

This dramatic headland, sheltered by Sheep Island, offers views of the spectacular Carrick-a-Rede Rope Bridge. It was used in Season 2 Episode 3 as Renly Baratheon's camp, and where Brienne was named to Renly's Kingsguard. In Season 6 Episode 5 it was the setting for the Kingsmoot.

Ballintoy

Lordspout Harbour and Pyke

This coastal harbour at the end of a dramatic, twisting road is synonymous with Pyke and the Iron Islands. Theon returns here in Season 2 Episode 2 and is baptised here in Season 2 Episode 3. Season 6 Episode 5 also features Euron's drowning and rebirth here, and the nearby beach played host to Melisandre's burning of Stannis Baratheon's bannerman.

The Dark Hedges

The Kingsroad

The intertwining beech trees on this avenue are over 200 years old and were planted by the Stuart family to impress visitors as they approached Gracehill House. The Dark Hedges were used in Season 2 Episode 1 as Arya escapes King's Landing along the Kingsroad.

Portstewart Strand

Coast of Dorne

The 2 mile stretch of golden beach at Portstewart Strand is backed by impressive sand dunes. Here Jaime and Bronn came ashore to rescue Myrcella only to be discovered by Dornish soldiers. It's also where Ellaria and the Sand Snakes vow vengeance against the Lannisters in Season 5 Episode 4.

Downhill Strand Dragonstone

Seven miles of sand beneath the stunning Mussenden Temple, that sits perched dramatically on a 120ft cliff top. In Season 2 Episode 1 this is where Melisandre burnt the effigies of the Seven Gods of Westeros.

Binevenagh, The Antrim Plateau Dothraki Grasslands

Marking the western extent of the Antrim Plateau, this distinctive headland has spectacular cliffs extending for over 6 miles across the peninsula of Magilligan. Used in Season 5 Episode 10 when the Dothraki horde surround Daenerys after her escape from the Meereen fighting pits on the back of Drogon, and again in Season 6 Episode 1 when Daario and Jorah discover Daenerys' ring whilst searching for her.

Taste Causeway

The Causeway Coast and Glens is world renowned not just for its stunning landscape but also its exceptional food and drink, cultivated by passionate people.

Taste Causeway is the unifying vision for the wide array of food and drink producers, artisans, food tourism and hospitality along the Causeway Coast and in the Glens of Antrim. In 2019, at the first time of asking it was named runner-up in the all-Ireland Foodie Destination Awards.

Whether rearing cattle in the lush fields, hauling fish from the stormy sea, plating fine cuisine in award-winning restaurants or serving street food at bustling markets, the members of Taste Causeway are committed to offering fresh, flavourful food and an immersive experience that showcases the Causeway Coast and Glens.

During 2020 Taste Causeway collaborated with North West Regional College (NWRC) Business Support Centre (BSC) to develop a bespoke Level 2 Health and Safety Working Practices course for hospitality businesses in the Causeway Coast and Glens. This accreditation provides additional reassurance that the safety of the customer is paramount.

Taste Causeway is also an accredited Slow Food destination, one of only a handful of destinations in Ireland to be awarded the accolade by the global Slow Food Movement. Slow Food stands for Good, Clean and Fair food, and supporting the artisan producer, of which Causeway has in abundance.

Discovery Routes and Trails

Cycling

Cyclists will not be stuck for scenic routes in the Causeway Coast and Glens. With a choice of inland and coastal ways suitable for all levels of ability you can enjoy a memorable experience on two wheels.

 Eagle's Glen Cycle Route (14 miles)
A hilly trail centred on the picturesque Glenullin Valley, exploring the historic Errigal landscape and signposting you through Garvagh forest.

 The Lower Bann Cycleway (45 miles)
This linear cycle route travels between Toome and Castlerock following the Lower Bann River corridor from Lough Neagh to where the river enters the Atlantic Ocean at The Barmouth near Castlerock.

 Bann Valley Cycle Route (15 miles)
Linking Garvagh and Kilrea on quiet country roads, this route traverses the fertile landscape of the Bann Valley, with views beyond, towards the Antrim Hills.

 The Banagher Cycle Route (28 miles)
A challenging trail, circling the foothills of the Sperrin Mountains and passing upland through towns and villages and farmland.

 NCN Route 93 from Ballyshannon to Ballycastle (236 miles)
This route is readily identifiable by distinctive signage and offers superb coastal scenery, including some traffic-free cycle paths. These sections are suitable for novice cyclists and families with young children. Experienced cyclists may choose to venture off the signed routes and explore the countryside at their leisure.

Walking

The Causeway Coast and Glens is a haven for walkers. Each and every turn opens up a myriad of sights, smells and sounds, for the ultimate walking experience.

 The Moyle Way (27 miles/43km)
The route takes you through the heart of the Glens of Antrim, past ancient monuments, across rivers and high mountain tops, and culminates among the woodland waterfalls of Glenariff Forest Park, before reaching the coastal village of Waterfoot.

 The Causeway Coast Way (33 miles/52km) Starting in Portstewart, this route passes through the Causeway Coast Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and finishes in Ballycastle with breathtaking views along the route.

 The North Sperrins Way (37 miles/60km) Connecting Dungiven and Castlerock this route provides a contrasting walking experience to the many coastal trails. It traverses higher ground forming the northern foothills of the Sperrin Mountains, passing notable landscape features including Benbradagh and Binevenagh, with spectacular views over Lough Foyle towards Donegal.

 International Appalachian Trail (IAT) (114 miles/184km)
For the ultimate challenge, walkers can follow the International Appalachian Trail (IAT) that traverses the Causeway Coast and Glens. The route is currently benefitting from significant investment that will enhance the experience for walkers.

The aforementioned routes all form part of Northern Ireland's magnificent, circular Ulster Way (625 miles/1000km). There's also lots of inspiration on shorter waymarked trails throughout the open countryside and along the coastline for walkers of all ability at <https://www.visitcausewaycoastandglens.com/things-to-do/walking-and-hiking/walks-and-trails>.

Picture This (NEW)
Eight feature frames in selected locations allow you to change your perspective and engage in fun and memorable experiences. Take time out and drop in on the communities that take you inland from the coast at Cushendall and Castlerock to the road less travelled. Experience the wildly beautiful Altarichard or the serenity of riverside locations at Camus, Portneal, Swann's Bridge and Burnfoot, while Garvagh Forest will lead you on a trail of discovery. Meet the people who make this place special and engage in activities that seem to fit naturally with the environment. And don't forget to frame your trip with a photo opp to treasure.

The Glens of Antrim

Endowed with evocative names and blessed with a diversity of landscape, The Glens are rich in history, folklore and natural beauty - each named according to their attributes. Escape to a world away from the frantic bustle of modern life and explore the woods, waterfalls, riverside paths, viewing points and forest parks among Glencloy (the glen of the hedges), Glenarm (the glen of the army), Glenariff (the fertile glen), Glenballyeamon (the Edwardstown glen), Glencorp, (the glen of the slaughtered), Glenann (the glen of the colt's foot), Glendun (the glen of the brown river), Glenshesk (the sedgy glen) and Glentaisie (the glen of taisie of the bright sides).

This section brings you along the coast from Waterfoot, through Cushendall and Cushendun to Ballycastle and Rathlin Island, before sweeping inland to Armoyn and the nearby Dark Hedges. There is no doubt this area contains some of the most striking and varied scenery in Northern Ireland.

Places of Interest

Waterfoot Beach, BT44 0JE
 Backed by sand dunes, it is a conservation area known for the presence of the Yellow-rattle flower and the Small Copper butterfly.
Loughareema Lake, BT44 0TA
 A natural phenomenon - a sparkling oasis one day and just a few days later, a bed of cracked mud with not a drop of water in sight.
Murlough Bay, BT54 6RG
 Buzzards and peregrine falcons hunt along the cliff tops at Murlough Bay, while eider and fulmar skirt along the bottom. There are different level car parks and picnic areas to enjoy the breathtaking views.
Fair Head, BT54 6RD
 It is a ruggedly beautiful and remote area for climbers and walkers. As Northern Ireland's tallest cliff face, Fair Head is believed to be the biggest expanse of climbable rock in either Ireland or Britain. A series of walks begins at the farm car park (nominal charges apply) which is clearly signposted off the Fairhead Road. Anglers should also note that the Fair Head lakes are stocked with trout and can be fished during the summer months.

Portballintrae

Portballintrae is a seaside village close to Bushmills with a small sandy beach and pretty harbour area. There is a car park, picnic area, toilets and shop adjacent to the beach. Popular with families with small children, it is not suitable for swimming due to dangerous conditions. The small harbour is a focal point for many water activities in the village. Runkerry Beach is also a wonderful place to explore but is not suitable for bathing or watersports due to rip currents.

Settlement

1-4 Axes. (Shown actual size) narrow-edged type of the Early Mesolithic period.
 5-7 Pointed Implements. (Shown actual size) single-pointed barbs and picks of the Late Mesolithic period.
 8 Sickle Blades. (Shown actual size) Possible reconstruction of use of microliths.
 9-13 Microliths. (Shown actual size) very small implements, usually used as components for tools such as harpoons, arrows or fishhooks.

Evidence was found of a succession of almost egg-shaped huts around 6m in diameter, with storage pits, drying racks and a flint working area. The majority of artefacts found were flint implements with some stone axes. There were also large numbers of fish, bird and wild pig bones, and a large quantity of hazelnut shells and water-bly seeds. This was a complex and organised settlement occupied for a substantial part of the year by an extended family group of about ten people. They would have been attracted by the huge range of food and natural resources arising from the proximity of the river, the rich forest area, flint from the cliffs on the shore to the north, and the fact that the river could be crossed at this point.
